

Biography

Ann Marie LeBlanc, JD

Caraway LeBlanc, L.L.C.

Ann Marie LeBlanc is one of the founding members of Caraway LeBlanc, L.L.C. and is an experienced litigator in the area of medical malpractice and commercial liability law. She has focused her practice on the defense of hospitals, nursing homes, physicians and other health care professionals. She has also defended the Patient's Compensation Fund in claims for excess damages. Ms. LeBlanc's twenty years of experience include representing defendants in complex and high profile litigation involving up to forty plaintiffs. She has given a number of lectures on medical ethics and medical malpractice related issues.

Prior to forming Caraway LeBlanc, L.L.C. in 2007, Ms. LeBlanc was Special Counsel at Frilot Partridge in New Orleans. She graduated from Loyola Law School in 1991 where she was a member of the Loyola Law Review and Moot Court Staff. She is the author of Louisiana's Fair Employment Statutes: A Cry for Clarity amid Expansive Federal Civil Rights Protection, 37 Loy. L. Rev. 313 (1991). Ms. LeBlanc received her undergraduate degree in Communications from Loyola University in New Orleans and worked as a broadcast journalist at the top rated radio and television stations in the city prior to obtaining her law degree.

She is a member of the Bar Association of the Fifth Federal Circuit, the Louisiana Bar Association, the New Orleans Bar Association and the AP Tureaud American Inn of Court. She was also president of one of the largest civic associations in the Greater New Orleans Area, the Lakeview Civic Improvement Association, from 2013-2015 and the recipient of The Order of St. Louis IX award in 2007 from the Archdiocese of New Orleans.