

Biography

Cathy Jones,

MSN, NPD-BC, RNC-OB, C-EFM, C-ONQS

Cathy has been a registered nurse for 33 years with 31 years of experience in obstetrical nursing. She works as an independent perinatal clinical practice specialist, educator, and legal nurse consultant. The primary focus of her work is on quality and safety initiatives and education to include team and simulation-based training. Cathy has also worked as a staff nurse, charge nurse, assistant nurse manager, and professional development specialist. She has served in AWHONN leadership for eight years and was the chair of the AWHONN Georgia Section for two terms.

Cathy earned her Bachelor of Science in Nursing from Liberty University and returned to her alma mater for her Master of Science in Nursing Education. She is a board-certified professional development specialist and holds certifications in In-Patient Obstetrics, Electronic Fetal Monitoring, and Perinatal and Neonatal Quality and Safety. Cathy is an instructor for AWHONN's Fetal Heart Monitoring program, the Neonatal Resuscitation Program, Advanced Life Support in Obstetrics, and TeamSTEPPS. She has presented nationally on high-risk perinatal topics, nursing certification review courses, and electronic fetal monitoring and was a contributing editor for AWHONN's Critical Care Obstetrics Course (2nd edition).

Cathy has expanded her career skills outside of the perinatal arena into medical writing on a variety of medical and nursing topics. She is working with LAMMICO/Medical Interactive as a writer and editor.
