

Biography

Katy Caraway, JD

Caraway LeBlanc, a New Orleans based law firm

Katy Caraway is an experienced litigator who has focused primarily on personal injury and medical malpractice cases.

Ms. Caraway has tried cases in both state and federal courts in Louisiana and she has presented seminars to lawyers and healthcare professionals on a variety of legal, ethical, and risk management issues.

Ms. Caraway earned a bachelors degree in Communications from Tulane University. She worked for 10 years as a radio news reporter, news anchor, and talk show host at WTIX, WLMG and WWL. While still working as a journalist, she undertook legal studies at Loyola Law School, graduating in 1991.

Ms. Caraway is a member of the Louisiana Bar Association, the Louisiana Hospital Association, and the Association of Women Attorneys. She continues to be involved with the media and is an occasional announcer at WWNO.

She was recently named one of the Top 50 New Orleans Attorneys by City Business.