

Biography

Pamela S. Falk, MPH, CIC, FSHEA, FAPIC

Ms. Falk graduated from the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor, Michigan with a bachelor in Medical Technology and Masters in Public Health with a concentration in Healthcare Epidemiology. She is certified in infection control. For more than 35 years Ms. Falk has worked as an infectious Diseases Epidemiologist in both University and private healthcare settings. She has published several articles in peer reviewed journals reviewing significant infection prevention issues. Ms. Falk is a Fellow in both the Society of Epidemiology (SHEA) and the Association for Practitioners in Infection Prevention (APIC). She is a member of APIC general education committee, and outpatient education committee. She participated in the CDC development of the don and doffing video and protocols Ebola, and traveled extensively teaching donning and doffing. She is passionate about education and speaks frequently at local, state and national conferences.